FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

As New AACE Board of Directors Takes Office, PT&C Well Represented

(Atlanta, GA, July 29, 2011)

At The Association for the Advancement of Cost Engineering (AACE) International's recent 2011 annual meeting in Anaheim, California, the newly installed Board of Directors sat for a picture. Project Time & Cost, Inc. (PT&C) is proud to have three staff members holding national and regional positions. PT&C congratulates our colleagues and supports their commitment to further the cost engineering profession through their involvement in AACE International.

President—Michael R. Nobsch, CCC, PSP (fourth from left, seated) has been a member of AACE International since 1999; and he was certified as a Cost Consultant (CCC) in 2001 and as a Planning & Scheduling Professional (PSP) in 2004. Mike has previously been elected to AACE's Board of Directors as President-Elect (2010-2011) and Vice President-Regions (2008-2010). He served on the task force that created the PSP certification. He has been an active member of the Southern California Section of AACE serving as president, vice president, and a member of the certification board. Mike holds a bachelor's degree in geology from the University of Rochester (NY) and a Master of Engineering Management degree from the George Washington University. Mike is an adjunct professor at the University of Southern California teaching graduate level courses in heavy construction estimating and scheduling. He recently joined PT&C as Managing Principal, Western Region based in Long Beach, CA.

President – Elect—Marlene M. Hyde, CCE, EVP, PMP (fourth from right, seated) has been a member since 1993 and became a Certified Cost Engineer (CCE) in 1993 and an Earned Value Professional (EVP) in 2009. Marlene has previously been elected to AACE’s Board of Directors as Vice President-Finance (2006-2008). She has been a director on the Women in Project Controls Committee since 2006. She has held leadership positions in both the Orlando and Albuquerque sections. Marlene holds a degree in architecture and planning and a Master of Construction Engineering degree from the University of New Mexico. Marlene is a senior manager at PT&C’s Denver, CO, office.

Director – Region 3—James H. “Jay” Carson, CCC, CEP, PMP (second from left, standing) has been a member since 2006 and a Certified Cost Consultant (CCC) since 2006 and a Certified Estimating Professional (CEP) since 2008. He has been active with the Atlanta Section and been elected to a variety of leadership positions including president, vice president, and membership director. He holds a bachelor of science degree in building construction from the Georgia Institute of Technology. Jay is a Cost Engineer at PT&C’s Atlanta, GA, office.
